

NO NAMES ARE GIVEN.

Whenever the Tribune springs an exceptionally flagrant sensation in the form of a lie, they carefully refrain from giving any names through which their perfidy can be proven. The latest in this line appeared in Sunday's issue of that nefarious scoundrel, and read as follows: "About nine days ago one of the First Presidency of the Mormon church, jointly with other church leaders, sent to the Democratic headquarters for their canvass books of the present campaign. The idea was to learn whether the church could see its way to counsel the brethren to vote for Morris. The books were sent as commanded and were examined. They did not make a satisfactory showing. There were long strings of 'doubtfuls,' and the 'counsel' could not be for Morris on the showing of the books. Then the canvass books of the Republicans were sent for. They are reported by the Democrats to have been thickly padded with names of Gentiles who, it is claimed would vote for Lynch—2,500 of them. There had evidently been a 'tip' and the books were fixed up to catch the favor of the 'authorities.' It caught on all right," etc., etc.

"One of the First Presidency" is as far as the Tribune goes, as far as they ever go in matter of detail that would enable one to brand the report as a lie and come back with the positive proofs of falsehood. The omission of names is enough to prove that the report is a complete fabrication, but there is the further fact that at no time since the canvass began has the Republican canvass book been out of the possession of the committee or out of the committee rooms.

Another equally flagrant statement is made by the Tribune that at a certain time, at a certain place, two certain individuals said certain things to and performed certain acts for certain other individuals, all of which, occurring in the state of Colorado, has created a new political issue in the state of Utah. What the Tribune in this case represented as facts important enough to create a new political issue in Utah, are positively denied by the persons whom the Tribune claims to have got their information from, and, although they are devoting several columns of each issue to a reiteration of their claims, they refrain entirely from giving the names of the two individuals who alone can give conclusive evidence of the truth or falsity of the report. Again they lie and dare not come out openly with a tangible charge.

The Tribune will certainly come out tomorrow morning with a choice lot of sensational matter. Thinking that it is too late for reply before the voters go to the polls, they will be bolder than ever, if that is possible, and come clear out from behind the bush where they have attempted to hide heretofore. Look over the matter carefully, voters, and note how adroitly they avoid giving names and dates, and how carefully they guard against a definite and defined statements that could be used against them in a suit for libel. In the absence of all proof of time, place and person, a distinguishing feature of practically all of their scare-head statements, it is the safest to put down as pure fabrication whatever they may have to say on election matters. Vote the Republican ticket early, and your conscience will be free from Tribune influence.

A vote for Morris is a vote thrown away, worse than thrown away. It's a vote for Thompson and the Kearns crowd.

Infringement of Trade Marks.

If you want to defeat the Kearns—"American" fakirs, vote for Lynch.

Real Paternal Government.

In Servia an old institution called the Zadruga still exists. It is the living together of a whole tribe, numbering about one hundred persons, under the absolute authority of one chief, who keeps all the money, makes all purchases, and decides every detail of family life.

Deficiency of Women Writers.

Says Lady Violet Greville: It is curious to note that while men have on many occasions painted women with unerring truth and felicity, women never seem quite to grasp a man's ideals or mode of thought. Is it, perhaps, because they are lacking in the experience acquired by men in the course of their love affairs?
